

JUSTICE AND MERCY COMMITTEE

The RCHP Justice and Mercy Committee meets monthly to discuss ways to join and generate support for social justice issues in our community, state, and nation.

As a matter of faith, our committee ponders the intersectionalities and complexities as we consider engaging in issues.

Here are some of the ways we do this:

Current Issues

We consider current, pressing issues, and try to decide RCHP should stand up, speak out, engage in, and pray about these matters.

Local Engagement

We pay attention to legislation and policies at the local, county, state, and national levels, and encourage the Elders and Deacons to take a public stand.

Partnerships for Justice

We nurture connections to organizations and campaigns that are leading the work of peacemaking and justice seeking.

Nonprofit Development

We support a vast array of non-profit programs within our buildings, which address affordable housing, reentry, public health, immigrant and refugee services, and more.
